Richest Blessings To You All In 2009

Although you find glimpses of the Divine, don't be satisfied; go deeper within this year of 2009, and you will sit at a place within your being that has not been experienced in your previous years. There is a land within beyond all your dreams, where the well that never dries up is springing forth for your full enjoyment. Deep in your heart there is a yearning to find this well and even if you have just barely sipped from it, this is the year to drink in more fully. --Sandra Faye

Following our grand holiday season, a call goes forth from the great beyond that touches each of us that seek to be more fully awake, enlightened and performing a richer more fulfilling service to humanity.

Someone may ask, "well, I don't know how to hear a call, what does that mean?" I want to say first and foremost, we have the responsibility to be fully awake to hearing and seeing the needs of those all around us. We do not have to have a grand psychic revelation to simply answer a call to be of service to others in whatever way we have the ability to offer. The call that we hear within us is the invitation to experience the moments we have as a being on this earth right where we are in our lives, enjoying the life we are currently living.

Friends, in spite of the magnitude of so many demands on our time, our energies, our personal needs or duties, it is essential to get quiet, to experience peace and to know it as our own precious gift from our Divine Source. For each of us, the desire for inner peace is can be different. Each of us is unique in our needs and expressions in life. Let me share some thoughts that come as I have assisted so many during the November and December times in 2008 and shared with them these same suggestions.

Everyone is concerned: Yes, most everyone comes with concerns about our current economic situation and feels that they can only buy if greater and deeper savings can be had with any purchase. Maybe it is a time where we can purchase less and focus on true "needs" rather than what all we want as our external needs. It seems that if we do this, it would also give us more quality time to relax, to listen to music we may love, or step out into nature more or even totally just rest doing NO THING for a day or so.

Things of the Past: The new year brings with it a time for us to make new decisions. It is definitely a time where we decide what we are going to allow to fall away from our life journey and what we are going to allow to continue. What a joyful time this can be. Have you ever cleaned out a closet full of "stuff" and felt the great new energy that springs forth by seeing cleanliness and organization to the contents in the room? Of course, we all have at some time or another. Letting go of the past gives a whole new life to your energy field to begin a new year with less baggage.

Who is in Charge of your life? If we spend time asking Spirit or the Divine Source, or God, whatever your choice may be, to assist us, or guide us with matters in our life, and we deeply trust that source and acknowledge it is present, a door will always open. A way will always open and give you a sense of "moving ahead." Always, in that doorway is an open call to pray, meditate or just dream. Then our task is to be receptive enough so that we can actually hear, see, and feel the deeper message from within.

Open your heart to what may be the best year of your life coming up in 2009. The great discovery that emerges in 2009 is that we are truly free if we want to be. We are truly alive and well if we want to be. We are never alone unless we really want to be. Even when we feel deep inside we are alone, or no one really cares, or we feel rejected by those we love or want to love, we are not every truly alone. Anytime or anywhere we can experience a reconnection to life, and to our spiritual path. And, if you ever think, I wish I could just know or see my guardian angel if there is such a thing, just open your eyes. Your guardian angel could be right before your eyes as you look at your mother, your father, a brother, a sister, a neighbor or a close friend.

Since the first breath of God at the beginning of all the worlds, it was pre-ordained that Creation would exist within a rhythm of expansion and contraction. The universe began to bring forth life emerging on the Earth, and it is here for our true life fulfillment in this universe to enjoy. May these few words assist you in doing this in your wonderful lifetime.

Global Peace

...”be willing to learn and become receptive to what survives in the many forms of the major religions of the world.”

Wishing You a Wonder Filled New Year

Dear Spiritual Friend,

Joyously look forward to the good fortune that you can-- and will-have as you become increasingly conscious of your true nature and your eternal relationship with the Infinite. When you are continuously receptive to the highest good that can be yours in all aspects of your life, it will emerge in divine order.

As you nurture your spiritual growth to help yourself experience the total well-being you deserve to have, the orderly processes of nature and timely actions of God's grace will fully support all of your constructive endeavors.

During the Holy Season and on into our New Year of 2009, millions of people in our world are more conscious of their relationship with the Infinite, praying for global peace, and compassionately reaching out to share with others in helpful ways. Blend your prayers with theirs. Perform thoughtful acts of kindness for people in your community whose personal needs may otherwise be overlooked. They will be blessed by what you selflessly do for them.

Daily meditate until you are established in awareness of your oneness with the wholeness of life. Silently radiate your illumined consciousness into the collective consciousness of our planet to spiritually uplift and benefit everyone, everywhere.

Reflections

How did man ascribe value and uncover some semblance of a spiritual truth in this search for understanding in what must have been a confusing world way back in history, even as it is so perceived in our current time? How did the civilizations coalesce and organize their view - points to frame a meaningful connection to the Great Life, the Mystery, the Source?

Within all of the monuments, remnants and what remain of the sacred ruins on this planet, our ancient ancestors sought to find a way to make some kind of sense out of life in images that still survive the onslaught of the centuries. Witness great archeological findings in ancient Cambodia, China, Peru, or India, Africa, Egypt or Greece or anywhere in our world where we uncover the remains of a previously known or unknown culture.

The task for us, in the current culture, I might propose, is to genuinely and gently be willing to learn and become receptive to what survives in the many forms of the major religions of the world.

What I see happening is encouraging. Interfaith dialogues are occurring between Christians, Moslems, Jews and Buddhists (to name a few.) Programming on cable and the Internet as well as major network television offers the public an opportunity to witness ceremonial, religious and other events from a plethora of groups all professing a sacred/religious platform or message.

While we can see horrific images of conflict such as war with another nation or nations, it does not give us significant insight into a culture, let alone the consciousness of a people that live, feel, eat, sleep, marry and raise their families in a milieu that is based upon views that are so divergent from our own.

What brings compassion, love and understanding, I believe comes in part through the hurt, loss, death and incredible pain that has been such a profound wound upon the nations of the world thus affected. It opens the door to communication, education and in time, HEALING.

Only when we trust that there is a resident power within that can be fanned and stirred into greatness, will we be consistent in the offering of the rising of that possibility to others.

Lessons on Truth Teachings—Spiritual Treasures

Are you ready to begin a FAITHFUL study which will enable you, the seeker of truth, to experience steady unfoldment on your chosen spiritual path?

Won't you take the time to pray and contemplate the new joy that can come by feeding your soul with a modern treatment from the spiritual commentary called the Bhagavad

Gita. This study can give you a clear explanation of the esoteric meaning of this classic scripture.

The Bhagavad Gita is a spiritual treasure and is translated from the Sanskrit language as

"Glorious Celestial Holy Song."

It initially was written in the fifth century B.C.

The teachings are for all people, of all times and cultures, because its message is universal and touches both the human and the spiritual condition equally. The message gives one advice of the most practical nature, as well as instruction leading to liberation of consciousness.

The high calling at this time on our planet is for those who have eyes to see and ears to hear that the ideal way of living, is one whereby man's purpose on earth may be fulfilled and God's will might surely be done.

When a large percentage of humanity have neglected a way of righteousness, the Divine Influence once again emerges on the world scene to encourage mankind to move steadily onward, to assure the maintenance of society and to illumine souls. This is currently taking place in various ways.

Now let us be very serious in this closing by stating firmly that it is a conscious recognition by many that people are busy, busy, busy with everyday activities. These activities usually do not include a disciplined time to honestly study a true spiritual path, meditate daily, and experience a continuous and conscious pattern of increased awareness of God as a reality in their life.

TV, phone calls, family duties, full time in a workplace, and much more take up each and every day. The call from the guardians of our race are calling out more and more for us to turn around the "down hill run" that many are traversing at this time. Remember, man's perception of the outer world tends to keep him in bondage to it. Come, let us together give support and Light to the effort of deep meditation and experience more of that inner radiance that is experienced when our attention is turned within to the source of all Life.
